Atlanta Diabetes Associates Announces the Affiliation of Van Meter Pediatric Endocrinology with Innovative Diabetes & Endocrine Associates (IDEA) to Expand Diabetes and Endocrine Disorder Services in Metro Atlanta

Atlanta, Georgia - February 9, 2022 – Atlanta Diabetes Associates (ADA), one of the most well-known diabetes & endocrine treatment clinics in the U.S., today announced the affiliation of Van Meter Pediatric Endocrinology (VMPE), a well-established pediatric endocrinology practice in Metro Atlanta, with Innovative Diabetes & Endocrine Associates (IDEA).

Van Meter Pediatric Endocrinology is a private outpatient specialty clinic located in Atlanta, Georgia. The practice provides the complete spectrum of endocrine-related diagnoses and treatment services. With over 42 years of experience, Dr. Quentin Van Meter believes that this affiliation will improve the patient-experience and strengthen the overall delivery of care.

He elaborates, “The affiliation with the IDEA organization broadens the access to patient care services and clinical research for pediatric endocrine patients and allows for smooth transition from a pediatric to an adult care medical home at the most optimal time in the most efficient manner.”

Innovative Diabetes and Endocrine Associates is an affiliation of endocrine medical practices created by Atlanta Diabetes Associates with the purpose of providing consolidated management services to support the mission of affiliated member practices of offering the highest quality of care.

Dr. David Robertson, a partner at Atlanta Diabetes Associates, states that, “As independent practitioners we are keenly aware of how healthcare and other business costs may influence healthcare delivery. Together, we have an increased ability to easily collaborate with other high-level professionals when making medical and business decisions and that translate to better care for all our patients.

Our affiliation with other independent practices will allow us to access a wider variety of services and technology while continuing to provide quality healthcare and give us a larger presence within the medical community. The IDEA organization will expand the opportunities for patients and clinicians to participate in cutting edge research projects that will define the future management of endocrine diseases.”

Atlanta Diabetes Associates specializes in Endocrinology. Established in 1984 with Dr. Paul Davidson as its founder, Atlanta Diabetes Associates has been serving patients for over 37 years. With strong commitment to patient education and participation in the implementation of treatment plans, Atlanta Diabetes Associates provides superior medical care.
